

A Manual for Interpreting Lewis and Clark: Guidelines for Individuals, Groups, Historic Sites and Re-Enactments

This manual was developed by four nationally recognized living history groups along the Lewis & Clark Trail to provide consistent policies on issues of interpretive techniques, period correct dress, historically correct equipment, and public safety. The participating groups are:

- Lewis & Clark Honor Guard of Great Falls, MT
- Discovery Corps Inc., Council Bluffs, IA
- South Dakota Chapter of the Lewis & Clark Trail Heritage Foundation, Bushnell, SD
- Brigade of Discovery, Washburn, ND

The manual's 250-plus pages are filled with the best available historical information, sketches, drill procedures, and step-by-step instructions for making your gear, getting your patterns, or other sources of "ready-made" gear. Of tremendous value will be the 12-page resource guide, and the bibliography. Color plates (courtesy of our friends at the Frontier Army Museum Association) show the uniforms for all the military members. Charts and "planning matrixes" are included to assist in evaluating where you or your group is now, and where you should be. In addition there is information on doing historical interpretation, and safety and security, with suggestions to enhance your program(s).

The manual will be shipped as fast as we receive the orders/checks. In most cases shipping will be no later than the next day after receipt. It is printed loose-leaf, three-hole punched and individually wrapped. In addition to keeping the printing costs down and we thought it was the most usable format. As new information surfaces, additional Appendices can be easily inserted.

We hope that you will enjoy the book and that you will spread the word to others who may be interested. Cost is $24.95 plus $3.50 for shipping and handling. Make your checks or Money Orders out to the Lewis & Clark Honor Guard.

Send all requests directly to the author Gene Hickman, at 8842 Douglas Circle, Helena, MT 59602, 1-406-458-3884 (email inquiries may be sent to ghickman9@bresnan.net). Please make checks payable to Lewis & Clark Honor Guard.
